

Working in Oz: Eric Shanower and Angelica Shirley Carpenter

In back-to-back talks, New York Times best-selling cartoonist Eric Shanower shares how he fell in love with Oz as a child and dedicated himself to continuing Baum's legacy as no one else has done and Angelica Shirley Carpenter talks about her first publication, L. Frank Baum: Royal Historian of Oz, a middle-grade biography written with her mother Jean Shirley, her young adult biography, Born Criminal: Matilda Joslyn Gage, Radical Suffragist, and her picture book, The Voice of Liberty, also about Gage. This session will end with time for audience Q&A.
